

Start page

Patchwork images and links to other pages to have more information about the game and research purpose

Intro

Invitation to the user to enter emotionally into the experience meeting the narrators and understanding the context

Time rift

Three-scene journey

First scene

Present

The user finds himself in the city of Chicago as it is today and has to guess where he is standing

Second scene

Transition

The user has to collect the first item to add to the collection by guessing the exact image that represents the past where he is standing

Third scene

Past

The user reaches the end of the scene, where he finds a letter to add to his collection, links that take him to the online Chicago archives, and an interactive map of Old Chicago